On December 15, 2014, Dakota Access, LLC (Company) filed a siting permit application pursuant to SDCL 49-41B-4 to construct the South Dakota portion of the proposed Dakota Access Pipeline (Pipeline). The Pipeline will begin in North Dakota and terminate in Patoka, Illinois, traversing 13 counties in South Dakota. The proposed route will enter South Dakota in Campbell County at the North Dakota/South Dakota border and will extend in a southeasterly direction, exiting the state at the South Dakota/Iowa border in Lincoln County. The length of the Pipeline through South Dakota is approximately 272.3 miles. The Pipeline also includes one pump station in South Dakota, located in Spink County. On December 23, 2014, Dakota Access filed a revised Application and revised Exhibits A and C. The Commission has granted party status to several parties. On March 11, 2015, the Commission issued a scheduling order, which included a deadline of May 1, 2015, for responses to initial discovery. On May 7, 2015, the Commission received a Motion to Compel from Yankton Sioux Tribe, alleging discovery violations by the Company and seeking an order compelling discovery and awarding attorneys' fees and expenses.

TODAY, shall the Commission grant Yankton Sioux Tribe's Motion to Compel? AND, if so, shall the Commission award reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses associated with the Motion to Compel?
