[REDACTED] Comments: Hello, My name is Janet Wagner from Tyndall, SD People have always opposed change - they just don't like change. When the automobile came-they didn't want them. When dams were built-they didn't want them. It would be hard to imagine life without either. Change is inevitable so I give my full support to the Prevailing Winds Park project. The wind project is moving forward as they are trying to build something for our communities and state. Please support their efforts which are based on facts.
