
From: Robert Sack [REDACTED]
Sent: Wednesday, September 11, 2013 8:36 PM
To: Nelson, Chris
Subject: Black Hills Power increase

I see in today's Rapid Journal that big companies like Walmart, Menards, and others get to have a confidential hearing on rate increases, why? I thought this was a Public Utilities Commission, are we the residential people paying more in rates, so they can pay less, we will never know because they get to hide behind closed doors. Please explain to me and all other people in South Dakota how that is fair, just because they have big money or do they contribute to too many campaigns funds around the state?

Robert Sack
[REDACTED]