I am against wind turbines to close to my farm. My Grandfather lost our farm in the 30's and the best day of his life was when he bought it back from the insurance co. years later. He did not leave it to be carried on in the family to have them move off due to wind turbines being to close to live with the noise and health effects that wind turbines cause. That's why the wind companies put confidentiality clauses in their leases. A Two Mile set back would be a place to start. The electric rates seem to go up where ever they put wind turbines, why should we have to pay higher rates for something that makes no sense and puts a big divider between people in the community, in your town, in your church, in your cafes, every place you go it puts a divider between people that were once friends. Who is trying to save our one of a kind state, and who is trying to throw it down the tube for money. People that come to visit our state do so because of the hunting, fishing and all the beauties of the land and the friendly people, they do not come here to see wind farms.
