Explanation of Rules Effect and Fiscal Impact

The proposed pipeline safety rules would not fiscally impact state or local agencies or subdivisions. In addition, the interconnection rules would have minimal or no fiscal impact on small businesses. The rules set forth the procedures and standards that are to be followed for inspection of pipeline facilities and enforcement of pipeline safety standards. The pipeline facilities are currently being inspected and are subject to enforcement of the pipeline safety standards. The rules are mainly procedural and describe how inspections and enforcement will be handled.
