H. CONSTRUCTION AND INSTALLATION CHARGES

1. General

- a. Special charges in the form of installation charges, monthly rates or both, are applied in addition to the usual service charge and monthly rates when, because of the sporadic or occasional nature of the service or an unusual investment or expense is incurred as for example:
 - 1) The facilities are provided in remote or undeveloped sections of an exchange.
 - 2) Conditions that require unusual or expensive methods of plant construction, installation or maintenance.
 - 3) The customer's location requires the use of costly private right-of-way.
 - 4) The establishment of services which may be of a speculative or temporary nature.
- b. Title to any constructed facilities, as specified in H.2. below, provided wholly or partly as a customer's expense is vested in the Company.
- c. "Cost" is labor and materials including loaded overheads and may include contributions to cover the cost of doing business not explicitly associated with direct cost.
- d. Applicants shall provide right-of-way without expense to the Company. Such right-of-way shall be free from interference and otherwise suitable.

2. Special Type of Construction

- a. If a special type of construction is desired by a customer, (e.g., when underground service is desired in places where aerial construction would normally be used) or if unusual requirements of a customer make the cost of an installation higher than it would be if the usual type of construction were used, the customer is required to pay the difference in cost between the special type of construction and the average cost of the usual type of construction. Applicants may be required to make advance payments to cover all or a portion of the cost difference.

- a. The Company may disconnect or refuse the service without notice:
 - 1) in the event of a condition on the customer's premises determined by the Company to be hazardous.

Notwithstanding any other provision of these rules, the Company shall postpone the disconnection of service to a residential customer for a reasonable time, not in excess of thirty days, if the customer produces verification from a physician, or a public health or social services official, which states that telephone service is essential due to an existing medical emergency of the customer, a member of the customer's family or any permanent resident of the premises where service is rendered. This written verification shall identify the medical emergency and specify the circumstances. An Emergency Service Number (ESN) will be provided for each unique combination by the Company. The customer will associate these ESN's with street address ranges or other mutually agreed upon routing criteria in the E911 serving area. The ESN's will be carried in the Data Management System (DMS) to permit routing of E911 calls to the primary and secondary PSAP's responsible for handling of calls from each telephone in the E911 serving area.

This is CPE and it is the customer's responsibility to ensure it is compatible with the service(s) furnished by the Company.

Selective Routing (SR): A feature that routes an E911 call from a Central Office to the designated primary PSAP based upon the identified number of the calling party. It is the customer's responsibility to ensure the CPE selected to operate this feature is compatible with the service furnished by the Company.

Such calls are answered at PSAP's established and operated by the customer. Universal Emergency Number Service Customer: A municipality or other state or local governmental unit or an authorized agent of one or more municipalities or other state or local governmental units to whom authority has been lawfully delegated within a defined geographic area to respond to public emergency telephone calls, at the minimum for police and fire service.

- (1) Business Per Line blocking will be available at no charge for the following types of customers: Law enforcement agencies, shelters for battered persons, hospitals, medical service offices, pharmacies, and government agencies engaged in undercover operations.

Other business customers that do not fit the above requirements shall demonstrate to the Company a special need under criteria set forth below:

The Company must receive a written request from other business customers wanting line blocking that states that the disclosure of the calling number could endanger the caller, other persons, or property. The customer will promptly be notified by the Company of its decision.

A completed certification form is required for all customers subscribing to line blocking which identifies the customer who is to receive blocking and acknowledges that if a line is equipped with blocking, that their telephone number and name will not be delivered to subscribers of Caller ID, including poison control centers, hospitals, medical centers and others who might use Caller ID to provide assistance. 911 calls are not affected. Blocked calls received by some subscribers of Caller ID service may choose not to answer the blocked call.

Note: Requesting privacy when you call a toll free number, such as an 800 or like number, may or may not prevent the display of the customer's telephone number. When a toll-free number is dialed, the called party is paying for the call; therefore the called party may be able to identify your telephone number using a telephone network technology called Automatic Number Identification (ANI). The Federal Communication Commission rules limit parties that own toll-free numbers from distributing and utilizing this information.

- (1) (2) Liability: The Company is not liable for any damages whether incidental, consequential, or special and cannot guarantee that the Caller ID Blocking will be successful.
