As I've said, there are too many open discovery issues to finalize these dates right now, so I don't think we can get on a call and finalize. I was hoping to hear back from David following our discussion last week, and need those answers to know whether we are going to need to move to compel. We've given Meredith's client an extension until May 6 on our last requests, and we're trying to accommodate third parties whom we have served subpoenas on.
