Federal officials should investigate situation at Haskell

Editor's Note: The following was written by Dolph C. Simons, Jr. for the Lawrence Journal and printed on Indianz.com. December 19, 2009

It appears the time has come for a deep, thorough investigation of what is going on at Haskell Indian Nations University. Haskell is a unique and important university, and it deserves every opportunity to fulfill its mission of helping prepare American Indians to be involved, contributing members of today's "real world."

It's a good school, but it has the potential to be a far better academic institution. However, it cannot and will not rise to higher levels of excellence and become a nationally recognized and prized university for American Indians unless it has stable, enlightened leadership.

Over the years, there have been far too many changes in leadership at the school. There also have been and currently are elements within the faculty who make it extremely difficult to develop a sound, forward-looking academic curriculum.

Earlier this week, it was learned Haskell President Linda

Warner had been shuffled off to some relatively minor Indian-related position in Oklahoma City.

Warner is an able, highly educated administrator, but, apparently, internal politics within the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Indian Education or actions and lack of cooperation by some at Haskell all have combined to keep her from initiating and overseeing a sound academic program for the benefit of Haskell students.

Before shifting Warner to Oklahoma City, powers within the BIA or BIE had her moved to a position in the Albuquerque, N.M., area.

Word of the internal mess at Haskell leaked out through a letter signed by Ted Wright, who spent a year as Haskell's vice president for university services. In the letter, addressed to Secretary of the Interior Ken Salazar and all members of Congress, Wright asks for a thorough internal investigation of the school. He wrote, "Unfortunately, Haskell employs a group of about seven individuals who actively work against the administration. This group has been vocal, and since the BIE maintains a policy that does not allow administrators to respond, only misinformation, rumor and innuendoes are spread to the public, to the students and to Congress."

He added, "I agree with a recent blog that said this should be embarrassing to BIE officials; it was embarrassing to me as a native person that the very group of people who should have native students in mind actually worked to create an environment of fictional drama on campus that was detrimental to the University's attempt to live up to its potential."

He then lists numerous situations that he thinks illustrate the immediate need for an investigation. Some of these cover areas such as ethics, hiring policies and budget/money issues.

He said, "You have many issues in Interior; I wonder where Indian students fit in your priorities?"

This letter was dated Oct. 8, 2009, and, according to those close to the situation, there has been no response from Salazar and, until recently, no response from members of Congress indicating they intend to check into what appears to be a very ugly situation at Haskell.

It should be embarrassing, but the reaction or response to Wright's letter or Warner's efforts seems to be Indian officials to try to make Warner disappear, get rid of her.

She is a member of the Comanche tribe and has a bachelor's degree from Northeastern State University in Tahlequah, Okla., a master's in education from Pennsylvania State University and a Ph.D. from the University of Oklahoma. She has held senior positions at the Tennessee State Board of Regents, the University of Missouri and the National Science Foundation.

Haskell would benefit greatly by her leadership.

The sad part of this story is that officials of the BIE, BIA and Interior Department either don't care or don't think this is a sufficiently important situation to respond to Wright's letter or provide information to those in Congress who have asked for information.

Apparently, they think they don't have to reply and are not answerable to anyone.

Lawrence residents should be concerned. Haskell, founded in 1884, is the nation's oldest continuously operating BIA educational facility. It currently has approximately 1,000 students representing about 135 tribes from close to 40 states. It's an important university.

If Lawrence and Douglas County did not have Kansas University and Baker University, local residents would be doing everything they could to help Haskell.

Just as Kansas legislators face severe economic conditions that limit the number of dollars they can allocate to KU, the same situation applies to Congress and what it can, or wishes to, appropriate for Haskell. Even so, it seems Congress has shortchanged Haskell and thereby has limited what the school has been able to achieve in providing an excellent educational facility for American Indians.

The current situation needs to be examined and certainly BIA, BIE and Interior Department officials should make such an investigation a top priority. Also, they should respond immediately to members of Congress asking for information about what is going on at Haskell.

As Wright said in his letter, the current situation is an embarrassment.

A Guiding Light

Did you know you were chosen for greatness? Did you know that you were created and called to a special purpose? The Bible teaches that every man and woman, no matter what nationality or race is "fearfully and wonderfully made" by God. That includes you.

You were born prepacked. God looked at your entire life and determined what assignment to give you and gave you the tools to do the job. Psalms 139:14-16 not only says you are fearfully and wonderfully made but that God created your inmost being and knit you together in your mothers womb. At the sixth day of creation God saw everything he had made and behold it was very good. You are included in that statement.

Today is the day to embrace the goodness of God and his goodness that is within you.

Never let anyone or anything make you think you are less than what God created you to be.

God does not make junk. Resolve this coming year to find God's purpose for your life.

BeefTalk: A New Year's Resolution - Apply What We Know

By Kris Ringwall, Beef Specialist

NDSU Extension Service

Have you ever been around someone who knows everything? However, in this case, I mean those people who actually do know a good share of stuff.

Granted, this is not a question concerning memory recall but an inquiry into how, as beef producers, we seek to obtain the answers we need to stay in business. Information overload may lead to a memory crash, but one does not need to simply rely on memory because there certainly is a lot of room in how each of us approaches problems and finds solutions. The bottom line is that there are answers, but it is important that we make some effort in understanding these answers.

As the New Year approaches, beef producers should stop and ask what we know today that we did not know at this time last year. Wow, health, nutrition, genetics, management, etc. The list is long and not simple. In fact, almost all of our newer technologies came about because of advances in laboratories that study, but do not feed, the beef cow.

As humbling as it might be, many who have a strong influence on the future of the beef cow seldom see cattle. Instead, these are dedicated individuals who enjoy making a living in the fields of study involving math and chemistry.

If we travel back in time, most would agree math and chemistry or perhaps many other biological applications of math and chemistry were difficult at best.

Anyone who has taught math or chemistry will need just a second to recall the numerous examples of trying to get students to understand a basic concept.

Having been at the receiving end, as most of us have, the frustration mounts as a fellow student tries to explain what to him or her is a simple answer but leaves us in a fog.

Why the discussion? Most of the changes that occurred in the past or will in the future involve a better and more complex understanding of biological systems that were or will be converted to some form of math or chemistry that we can apply to our lives.

For example, turn to any beef breed Web site and start browsing for information.

What used to be a fairly simple effort of reporting data or printing a form or bulletin now is stacked several layers deep with numerous opportunities to do something.

Since breed organizations are the repositories of data involving the cattle they register, it is only natural that they expand on the genetic opportunities that the database offers. That database keeps expanding and contains the answers to the many often asked questions. The point is that those answers are available through a properly maintained, organized and analyzed data set.

Now we have the first point of this article. There are people who do know a lot or at least a very good share of what is known. They may not have a total recall of all things, but they do know how to ask data sets the right questions to get the right answers. If we fail to capitalize on the wealth of information contained within a data set, then we will fail to move forward.

A very good example is the use of expected progeny differences (EPDs). The concept of EPDs is laden with so much math that most of us have long since given up trying to figure out just how all these numbers come about. That is not necessarily a bad thing provided we come to trust the people who have painstakingly spent the better part of their careers building the mathematical models so we can make sense of the data and answer our questions.

The news becomes even more exciting. As the knowledge of DNA and other molecular genetics advances through chemistry are added to the mathematical models, the answers we seek will become even more clear and concise.

Perhaps a good New Year's resolution for the beef industry and producers is to revisit the trust we have in the numerous tools we have available to improve beef production. We then should resolve to implement something we did not know last year.

May you find all your ear tags.

Moreau-Grand decides to shut off PCA for December

Moreau-Grand Electric Cooperative's board of directors made the decision at the December meeting to shut off the PCA (Power Cost Adjustment) for the month of December; thus the PCA line item for each meter on your December bill will read zero (0).

The PCA is designed to cover the increase in the wholesale cost of power purchased by Moreau-Grand. Total dollars collected via the PCA from January - November of 2009 are expected to cover the increase in power costs for the entire year. This is the beauty of operating a PCA - it provides flexibility, which in turn benefits the members.

The same PCA of 1.24 cents/kWh utilized in 2009 will again show up with your January, 2010 billing that will arrive in February.

Moreau-Grand Electric encourages anyone with questions to call them at 1-800-952-3158 or 605-865-3511.

Bringing it in

With the small grain harvest nearly complete in So Dakota, the attention will turn to the row crop harvest. Dry weather has stressed row crops in this area which is expected to impact harvest yields.

Dry weather takes toll on corn, beans

What started out as a promising year for area farmers has turned into disappointment as the dry, hot weather saps the corn and soybeans in our area.

Although the spring and winter wheat crops provided higher yields, the recent hot and dry weather has had a negative impact on the corn and soybean crops.

According to Walworth and Campbell County Extension Agent David Vander Vliet, the lack of moisture has taken its toll on the crops still in the field.

The heat and high winds last week, along with the lack of moisture in August have caused problems with both the beans and corn.

"The soybeans will have less pods, and less bushels per acre. The beans abort pods during weather stress," said Vander Vliet. "The corn will have smaller kernels, because there is no moisture to fill them up."

He said some area producers have been cutting for silage three weeks before the normal time.

"Usually plants dry-down earlier," he said. "But I am sure how some of the crop has held despite the dry heat and low moisture."

He said there are still crops there that will benefit from precipitation.

"There is a lot of promise out there. The sunflowers are holding up well," said Vander Vliet. "There are some heads. For the most part they are doing well."

The small grain harvest is mostly completed with yields in both the winter and spring wheat, according to Vander Vliet.

- What proof of eligibility do I need to provide?

You will be asked for proof of your eligibility by submitting a form signed under penalty of perjury that you receive benefits from or a copy of any dated document which verifies your participation in one of the qualifying programs listed above. Proof of total household income may be required for income based qualification. Your Lifeline benefits will take effect when proof of eligibility is received.

- How do I continue to receive Lifeline benefits?

Eligibility is reviewed periodically. Your benefits will be discontinued when you no longer meet the eligibility requirements or when proof of eligibility is not received. Customers who are no longer eligible for Lifeline benefits must notify their service provider.

- Other Useful information

There are other options that can help you save money, including free toll blocking, waived deposit with toll blocking and voluntary limit on long distance calling (toll control).

Link Up helps households reduce the cost of initiating telephone service. This program pays some of the cost of connecting local telephone service to your home or activating wireless phone service. However, Link Up does not cover the cost of wiring inside your home.

- How much will I save?

Link Up will pay 50% of your installation charges for total discount of $15.00. (Maximum benefit $30.00) An additional discount may apply to residents of federally recognized tribal lands.

- How do I know if I am eligible?

If you qualify for Lifeline, you also qualify for Link Up.

- Are there any restrictions?

You must provide proof of eligibility before telephone service can be activated. Link Up can only be used for the charges for activating a primary telephone line or moving existing service to a new address. Charges related to wiring and telephone jacks within your home and wireless handsets are not eligible for the Link Up discount.

- How do I apply?

To apply for Link Up you will follow the same application process as Lifeline and the same proof of eligibility as Lifeline.

Being a Lifeline or Link Up customer does not protect you from being disconnected if you fail to pay your telephone bill.

Lifeline and Link Up discounts cannot be applied to an outstanding balance owed to your phone company.

Lifeline can only be applied to one wireless OR wireline telephone per household.

News & Notes from WRT's CEO...

It is with sadness that I note the death of Richard Glaser. Richard was a member of the WRT Board of Directors from March, 1993 until his passing on December 11, 2009. Richard was appointed to fill a vacancy on the Board and then won re-election six times.

Richard attended Board meetings faithfully until nearly the end. Richard will be remembered for his unique perspectives, his candor and his willingness to represent WRT at state and national conferences.

Our thoughts and prayers are with Richard's wife and family during this time of loss and mourning.

The past year was a busy and productive year at WRT. We are nearly done with our upgrades to enable us to provide WRT broadband to basically all of our customers. We are still waiting on the FCC for some spectrum but are hopeful it will happen in the not too distant future. Government agencies operate at their own pace. The only deadlines they believe in are the ones they impose on others. It is very frustrating but there is really very little, if anything, we can do to get them to act in a timelier manner.

On February 17, 2010 the FCC is mandated to present to Congress a broadband plan for the nation. There is a lot of stress by government to get broadband to everyone. There is talk of using the Universal Service Funds for providing broadband services in non-rural areas. These are the funds that help provide affordable telecommunications services in rural areas such as we serve. If this happens there is a distinct possibility that the rates for basic telecommunications services would increase.

We are in agreement that broadband services are vital to most people and should be available to all people. But, we also feel it is premature to stop supporting voice communications. For many of our customers their voice landline is their lifeline. It is their connection to the world and is also their connection to emergency services.

Our fear is that the funds needed to provide basic telecommunications services to all will be diverted to other uses. That would greatly increase the cost of basic telephone service thus jeopardizing the ability of our most vulnerable customers to afford their lifeline to the world.

We will be working diligently with and through our state and national organizations to insure that quality, affordable telecommunications services, both voice and data, will be available to all of our customers.

The New Year will bring new changes and challenges. Your Board of Directors and Employees are ready, able and eager to meet these challenges and provide the services you need.

On behalf of the Board of Directors and the employees of WRT, I wish you and your loved ones a very happy and prosperous New Year. I hope 2009 was a good year for you and 2010 will be even better.

CALENDAR IN APPRECIATION ALL YEAR LONG!

WRT recently mailed out our Complimentary Customer Photo Contest 2010 WRT Calendar!

Thank you to all our customers who entered over 400 photographs. You will see 34 photographs within the full-color 2010 WRT Calendar. Calendars were mailed out to customers within our service area as a token of our appreciation for your business - all year long. Extra copies available at WRT offices - while supplies last.

NOTE: Saturday, July 31 Missing - The Story Behind the Eagle

Summers are short enough and we certainly don't want to take away a weekend! Despite our best proofreading efforts, July 31 was omitted on the 2010 WRT calendar. To avoid confusion, many customers are writing a "31" in the box just to the right of July 30 (the box that includes a photo of an eagle). Destinee Jensen of Beulah captured that unique and patriotic shot last summer while in Alaska. "This was a blind bald eagle that needed a little special attention," Destinee shared. We really wanted to use the cool picture of this eagle and accidentally covered up the date. Our apologies!

WRT Ft Yates Payment Offices - PENDING!

The Mor-Gran-Sou Electric Cooperative Building in Fort Yates was recently destroyed by a fire. WRT has worked with Mor-Gran-Sou for the past few years to provide a monthly walk-in office and customer service representative for customers to visit with about WRT services and Lifeline/Link-Up. (marked on the 2010 WRT Calendar on the second Monday of each month) At this time we are working to locate a temporary facility. Please watch for future notice on billings, newsletters & your local newspapers.

BEST WISHES BRUCE!

WRT would like to thank Bruce Sampson for his years of dedicated service & friendship.

Bruce Sampson recently announced his retirement after 30 years of dedicated service to WRT.

Bruce began his career in the telecommunications industry while working for North Central Data Center (currently NISC) in Mandan. His knowledge of their billing and programming software made him a valuable asset to WRT when he started in 1979 as a computer programmer. In 1988, Bruce was promoted to the position of Information Systems Manager. He was later promoted to the position of Customer Service Department Manager in 2004. This department included the Office Department and the Information Services (Internet) Department.

During his years of service at WRT, Bruce was instrumental in the development of WRT's Internet Service, as well as transitioning from Dial-Up to High Speed DSL and Fixed Wireless. He also worked on the implementation of WRT's Service Order and Billing software.

Bruce and his wife, Linda, live in Stanton, ND. They have two grown daughters and one grown son, as well as three grandchildren. In his free time, Bruce enjoys riding his Harley and spending time with his grandkids & family.

OVER $33,300 IN DENIM DOLLARS

RIGHT: WRT employee & WRT Denim Day participant Sharon Schmaltz (L) presents a Denim Days check to Alvina Hagler (R) representing the Hazen Food Pantry.

WRT employees proudly support the local communities that support us. Since 1995, many employees have deducted $1 from their paychecks every Friday to participate in the Denim Day for Charity program. Their generosity has added up over the years to over $33,300!

Contributions have been made to many local groups and organizations that have submitted written requests for support from the Denim Day fund. WRT employees review all requests and distribute the contributions.

WRT employees recently donated $2,765 in 2009 Denim Day funds distributed in our local communities including Akicita Hunsca Elders Group, Fort Yates; Hazen Lions; Mobridge Ministerial Association; WARC, Beulah; McLean Family Resources, Washburn; Hazen Food Pantry; Washburn Helping Hands; Almont Santa Days; Boys and Girls Club, McLaughlin; St. Mary's Guild, Fort Yates; Bridges Against Domestic Violence, Mobridge; House of Manna, Center; and Sakakawea Hospice, Hazen.

Q: WHAT IS POSTINI?

A: Postini (now a wholly owned subsidiary of Google) is a spam and virus e-mail filtering service. If you're a WRT Internet customer with a westriv.com e-mail address, you automatically get Postini virus protection at no cost. (Postini Spam Filter can also prevent more than 95% of spam e-mail from ever reaching your inbox for only $1 per month! Contact WRT if you're interested in adding Postini Spam Filter.) Postini shelters WRT e-mail users and WRT's network from an otherwise unbridled flood of virus-laden messages.

WHAT DO I NEED TO DO TO USE POSTINI?

You don't have to do much but enjoy your virus-free e-mail inbox! You can access your Postini account on WRT's web site (www.westriv.com) on the lower left hand corner of the homepage. Once logged in, you can control your filter level and check for any mistakenly filtered e-mails (this is rare, but happens on occasion). If you need any help logging into or using Postini, contact WRT tech support at 748-2211, send an e-mail to techdesk@westriv.com, or open a "live chat" session by clicking on the icon at the top right corner of any page on WRT's web site.

WHY YOU STILL NEED ANTIVIRUS PROTECTION

Postini does not completely protect your computer from viruses and spyware; it only catches those that would arrive via e-mail. Some dangerous "phishing" e-mails may not be caught with Postini, and you could get a virus by clicking on a web link in a phishing e-mail. Simply being connected to the Internet without protection can leave you open to viruses and spyware, which is why it's important to invest in updated antivirus and anti-spyware software. SecureIT Plus from WRT is a great choice because it updates itself! Once installed, it's completely automated—you don't have to do anything to keep up with new online threats. Contact WRT for more information!

SPEED UP IN 2010!

DO YOU WANT & NEED FASTER UPLOAD SPEEDS?

They can be awesome for gamers, great for businesses and perfect for PC lovers! Get WRT High-Speed DSL Internet Service at speeds up to 10 meg download/1 meg upload for only $95/month.

NEED EVEN MORE SPEED?

WRT also offers 10 meg download with upload speeds of 1.5 meg and 2 meg. Call today and speed up!

News & Notes from WRT's CEO

A reminder that on June 4, 2010 West River Telecommunications will hold its 58th Annual Membership Meeting in the Hazen High School gymnasium at 1:00 PM MDT. Registration for the annual meeting will begin at 11:00 AM MDT. There will be a lunch served at 10:30 AM in the grade school cafeteria located across the street from the high school gym. At this meeting, you will get to exercise your rights and responsibilities of membership. You will elect two Directors, receive reports and conduct the business of the Cooperative that will be brought before you. Cooperative members run their business through an elected Board of Directors. The Board sets the goals and direction for the Cooperative. The employees carry out the direction set by the Board. The most important responsibility of the membership is to elect representatives to the Board of Directors.

This year there are two Board positions open for full three year terms. There was only one member filing a petition in District 1 and one in District 3.

All members are encouraged to attend the Annual Meeting if at all possible. Your input about the Cooperative is important to the Board and management. Informative reports are given on the state of the Cooperative. By attending, a member also has the opportunity to interact with Board members and employees of WRT.

Elsewhere in the newsletter are the biographies of the members who have filed to run for a position on the WRT Board of Directors. The candidates for the two open positions have filed petitions with the required number of signatures. WRT By-laws governing the election process dictate that to be a candidate for election to the Board of Directors a member must submit a petition with signatures of at least 15 members. The WRT By-laws do not allow for nominations from the floor unless there are no candidates for an open position on the Board of Directors.

Each year the Board of Directors allocates the previous years margins. Margins are the revenues in excess of expenses. These margins are then retired in an orderly manner with the amount and fashion decided by the Board of Directors. In 2010, the Board of Directors will retire over $2.5 million of capital credits. Your capital credit checks will be mailed out prior to the Annual Meeting. You should receive your check in late May. You receive "Cashback" because you do business with WRT, a cooperative telecommunications company. This year you will get back approximately 10% of the amount spent with WRT in 2009 plus 50% of the capital credits earned in 1999. This "Cashback" from WRT will be a great economic stimulus for the rural communities served by WRT. The Board of Directors, employees and I look forward to seeing you at the annual meeting.

Once again we were hit with a snow and ice storm, this time on Good Friday. This storm was even more wide spread and devastating than the storm earlier this year. The electrical outage lasted longer than the previous storm so restoration of service took longer. Once again, I was impressed and grateful of the job the employees of WRT and the electrical companies did to restore service after this storm. Even though it took longer after this storm than the previous, it is still impressive at how quickly telecommunications and electrical service was restored especially when considering the magnitude of the challenge. Kudos to all those involved! ~ Mick Grosz, WRT CEO

Safe Surfing Tips for Kids WRT

PLAY!

Fun & Games

Always ask for permission from an adult before you...

- Enter a contest
- Join a club
- Accept a prize or gift

Be careful with spam e-mails, e-mail attachments or pop-up ads. You could get a computer virus or give private information without knowing it.

Don't Break the Law

Downloading music, movies, or ringtones without paying for them, or sharing music and movies online can be illegal. Check with your parents first to make sure the sites you're using are ok. Napster, iTunes, & Real.com are safe sites.

Protect your Privacy

OOPS!

Protect your passwords — don't give them to friends!

Be careful about what information you post online. Don't reveal information like your address, phone number, where you go to school, or where your parents work.

Think twice about what you post — remember everyone may be able to see it, and it might stay online forever!

Protect your friends' privacy too—get their permission before posting their picture or something about them.

Help!

Know your "REAL" Friends

The people you talk to online may not be who they say they are. Make sure you know all your online friends IRL (in real life).

If someone you meet online asks to meet or call you, asks for your picture or wants to send you a picture — don't do it. Be sure you do tell a parent or teacher right away.

If you receive a message that makes you feel uncomfortable, don't respond to it. Show a parent or teacher.

Practice Kindness

Use kindness and respect—don't say anything online that you wouldn't say to someone in person!

Don't spread rumors or lies on the web, through e-mail, or by text message!

Try to include everyone in the fun online! Excluding or "unfriending" people can hurt feelings.

Know your Netiquette

When you're online, sometimes people can't tell you are joking. Add a smiley :) or other emoticon to help express emotions in text.

Don't type in ALL CAPITAL LETTERS on e-mails or texts— that means you're SHOUTING! (

Q: WHAT IS AN IPAD AND WILL IT WORK FOR ME?

A: Is it a giant iPod? A keyboardless laptop? Much has been written about Apple's new iPad, but it's still a mystery to those who haven't used one.

Though netbooks (small portable notebook computers) are still top sellers, the latest trend in portable computers is the tablet! Apple's iPad is the biggest tablet success so far, with more than a million already sold since the gadget was launched in April.

Functioning like a combination of a small computer and large smartphone, the iPad has a 9.7" touchscreen display and an onscreen touch keyboard. An iPad's functions are more limited than a laptop or notebook computer, but it lets you surf the web, send e-mails, watch YouTube videos, view and organize photos and more.

Just like with Apple's iPod, thousands of apps (or applications) are available for the iPad. For a fee, you can download apps that let you watch movies, play games, or read virtual versions of your favorite magazines. An iBookstore app even lets you download entire books to your iPad.

All iPads are outfitted with Wi-Fi, so you can connect to the Internet using your WRT Wireless Internet modem. Wi-Fi + 3G iPads are also available, which require purchase of a plan that lets you connect to 3G mobile Internet service (much like a cell phone data plan).

Several more tablets, including from Microsoft and HP, are expected to go on the market soon to try to compete with the iPad.

No matter what your gadget, Wireless Internet from WRT is a great deal! Sign up now for WRT's High-Speed Internet and get free installation plus a free modem. Want wireless? Toss in $25 and it's a done deal! Call 748-2211 to sign up.

News & Notes from WRT's CEO

Summer is over and fall is here. Small grain harvest is about finished and the crops seem to look good. It is always great to see a good crop harvested. In most of our service area a good crop means a good economy for the coming year.

School has started and the children are once again attending classes to prepare for their future. An essential tool for the education of your children is the internet. It has become an indispensable tool in our day to day lives and especially in our education. If you do not have DSL yet call and ask about our special prices available now.

We have been very busy doing various construction projects throughout our service area. We will soon have WRT provided terrestrial broadband internet available to virtually all people living within our service area. It has been a tremendous effort both financially and physically. It is a great feeling to complete this step.

We continue to upgrade the backbone of our system to carry the ever increasing amount of data traffic generated by our customers. As our customers use the internet to send and receive more and more data it is vital that we have the capacity available to do so. This all takes a lot of planning and execution and of course a lot of money.

But even though we can now provide broadband to virtually all of our customers our job is not finished. Technology changes rapidly. Our need for more speed has increased over time. Many of our customers depend on the internet as much as on their voice connection.

We will continue to upgrade and improve our service to you in the years ahead. The need for quality, affordable telecommunications services will not decrease over time. Our commitment is to provide those services to you now and in the far future.

To provide this service in the rural areas we rely on revenues from the Universal Service Funds and access fees from long distance carriers. Both of these sources are under attack. The FCC is contemplating a National Broadband Plan that would be very bad for rural America.

The Board of Directors and management are very active in making WRT's needs known to state and federal regulators and policymakers. This is a very important task for us. We are also working with industry organizations to get the word out about the needs of rural America. It is vital that regulators and policymakers understand this and make certain the funding is available or rural America will not receive the services it needs.

I hope everyone had a great summer and are ready for some nice beautiful fall weather. ~ Mick Grosz, CEO

WRT TECH TIPS

Q: CAN I SET PARENTAL CONTROLS OPTIONS ON VIDEO GAMES LIKE WII & XBOX?

A: Monitoring your child's time playing video games is just as important as their time on the computer. There are many different game systems as well as types of games out there. The Wii, Xbox 360 & PlayStation 3 are the most popular systems and all three have built-in parental control options**. These options include blocking some games, movies and also monitoring Internet activity. Video games also have rating to help parents decide what might be okay to buy or play(see table on right).

Wii's Parental Control settings can be found under Wii Settings. Once you set up a PIN and secret question, you can choose your Game settings and Other Settings - to disable online shopping, the web browser and other options.

Xbox 360 has many parental control options located under the System Settings/Family Settings. You can choose Game Rating and Video Rating - which includes Movie & TV Rating. You can block or control online use under Xbox LIVE Access, including setting up Xbox LIVE child accounts. Xbox even allows you to set daily and weekly time limits under the Family Timer option. Parents can also set up a PIN and secret question using the Set Pass Code option.

PlayStation 3 provides a vast listing of parental controls as well, although maybe not as user-friendly as the other systems as it has more international options. Once under Security Settings you can Change Password and select Parental Controls. Options include restricting games and movies (Blu-ray, DVD, etc) based on your child's age; as well as selecting Region Code to limit content from the United States only. There are also online parental controls for the web browser and online access.

With a little time and patience, you can take control of your family's game system too!

**It is strongly recommended that you read your game system's manual for exact details or call the game system technical support number for additional assistance.

VIDEO GAME RATINGS

The Entertainment Software Rating Board (ESRB) rates video games. These ratings are located on the front & back of every game to help guide you in picking appropriate games.

News & Notes from WRT's CEO...

Another year is nearly over. Christmas is near at hand and the New Year is just around the corner. This is truly a wonderful time of year. As we celebrate let us all remember the reason for this glorious holiday.

We just celebrated Thanksgiving and there was much to give thanks for. The crops were very good again and the harvest was eventually completed.

We have basically finished our upgrades and can provide broadband to nearly all of our customers. There is only a handful of customers where WRT broadband is not available. We plan to upgrade the plant to these people in the coming year or so. It has been a long, methodical process and is gratifying to have this completed.

Broadband is the buzzword amongst federal policy makers and regulators. WRT has been active in conjunction with industry groups working with regulators and lawmakers to let them know the needs of rural America. The FCC is working on a national broadband plan at this time. The plan would shift universal service funds from supporting voice networks to broadband networks.

The major stress now seems to be on just building systems with only a very minor stress on maintaining the systems. Without these funds, customers in rural areas will be paying much higher rates to receive the needed services. The plan would be phased in over an eight to ten year time period.

As this process is in its early stages it is imperative for us to make them aware of our needs in rural America and the challenge for companies such as WRT to meet those needs. We have worked hard to that end in the past and will continue to do so in the future.

Our partnership with Verizon Wireless continues to provide quality cellular service to most of the WRT service area. They provide great service and coverage plus they are a partner of WRTs.

It has been another great year for WRT. It has been our honor and pleasure to serve you and provide the telecommunications services you need. We look forward to serving you next year and beyond.

In closing, on behalf of everyone at WRT, I wish everyone a very Blessed and Merry Christmas and a Happy and prosperous New Year. ~ Mick Grosz, WRT CEO

Q: Nooks, Boox, Kindles & Whatnots - Help?!

A: Techie gifts are at the top of almost everyone's list this year. It can be overwhelming - even if you are just listening to the discussion. We'll try to scratch the surface on Digital Reader/eBook Readers such as the Kindle, BeBook Neo, Barnes & Noble Nook, iPad, Sony Reader, Boox, etc.

WHAT IS AN EBOOK READER?

Books of any form (paper or digital) have the power to take us anywhere the author or our imagination directs us to go. eBook readers take it a step further by offering a library at your fingertips. It's not just limited to books either. eBook readers access magazines, daily newspapers and more. eReaders major selling point is they are designed to make your reading experience similar to a printed book but more convenient - no stacks of books to pack and quick access to your next page-turner. eReaders can even provide the "feel" of turning the page, not just scrolling down a screen. You just have to be a bit more careful not to spill when you cuddle up with your eBook and coffee.

READ ABOUT IT BEFORE YOU BUY!

There are a variety of eReaders available, so read up and do your research before you buy your eReader. Several things to consider include:

- SCREEN: Be sure to compare screen size and type. Do you want color? Touchscreen? LED backlights?
- CONNECTION: What wireless capabilities does it have? In most cases it is faster to purchase your eBooks online using your high speed internet connection and then transfer to your eReader.
- COMPATIBILITY: some eReaders have access to thousands of titles available from familiar book sites like Barnes & Noble or Amazon. These same readers may only allow eBooks from a dedicated service. It is also important to check with your local library to see what type of book files they provide.
- POWER: Unlike the traditional printed reading materials, your eReader needs a bit more maintenance. It's important to consider the memory and battery life before you decide on an eReader. Look into the number of pages that can be turned on a single battery charge. Compare the amount of memory available to store your "stack of books" on your eReader.
- BELLS & WHISTLES: Depending on your preferences or price level, you can find eReaders that also offer audio and images, as well as text-to-speech features and more. As with all technology, it will likely continue to improve, provide more features and eventually lower in price.

The best eReader for you should offer the closest feel to escaping with your good book, while providing the most convenient features to meet your needs. Happy shopping and more importantly, happy reading!

REGISTER WITH DO NOT CALL - IT'S FREE!

The National Do-Not-Call Registry has been established to offer you a choice about receiving telemarketing calls at home. Registering will stop most telemarketing calls but it will not stop calls from certain non-profit and political organizations and calls from organizations with which you have established a business relationship.

Consumers can register their residential telephone numbers, including wireless numbers, on the National Do-Not-Call Registry by telephone or by Internet at no cost. The number will be on the Do-Not-Call list the day after registration; however, telemarketers have up to 31 days to remove the number from their call lists.

You may register up to three numbers at one time if registering on the Internet. If registering via telephone, you can register only one number at a time and you must call from the telephone number you are registering. A number can be removed from the Do-Not-Call Registry at anytime.

To register or remove a number from the Do-Not-Call Registry:

- CALL 1.888.382.1222
- TTY CALL 1.866.290.4236
- REGISTER ON THE INTERNET at www.donotcall.gov.

Additional information can be obtained at www.donotcall.gov.
