Deborah Ward, CEO

For over 24 years Debbie has provided executive leadership to companies who provide communication services to wholesale and retail customers throughout the U.S. In the early 80's she founded TMS, a Pacific Bell Joint User in Southern California. In 1999, to meet the needs of customers outside the Pacific Bell territory, she established TSI, reselling CLEC and long distance services nationwide.

As CEO, Debbie's primary responsibilities are to:

- Guide the company to meet strategic objectives
- Oversee profit and loss
- Provide overall management for sales, marketing and vendor activities

She is a Comptel Board Member and a regular participant in industry webinars, trade association panels and executive committee forums. Debbie is one of the few female CEOs in this highly competitive telecom space. She is a regular contributor to various groups devoted to the promotion of females in executive leadership positions, and is highly regarded by her peers, devoted employees and valued customers.
