Do Not Call Registry & Non-Discrimination

National Do-Not-Call Registry

The National Do-Not-Call Registry has been established to offer you a choice about receiving telemarketing calls at home.

Registering will stop most telemarketing calls but it will not stop calls from certain non-profit and political organizations and calls from organizations with which you have established a business relationship.

Consumers can register their residential telephone numbers, including wireless numbers, on the National Do-Not-Call Registry by telephone or by Internet at no cost. The number will be on the Do-Not-Call list the day after registration; however, telemarketers have up to 31 days to remove the number from their call lists.

You may register up to three numbers at one time if registering on the Internet. If registering via telephone, you can register only one number at a time and you must call from the telephone number you are registering. A number can be removed from the Do-Not-Call Registry at anytime.

To register or remove a number from the Do-Not-Call Registry call 1.888.382.1222, for TTY call 1.866.290.4236 or register online- at www.donotcall.gov. Additional information can be obtained at www.donotcall.gov.

HOME TELEPHONE ASSISTANCE

WRT knows how vital access to reliable communications is to everyday life. We believe it is important to help connect those who can't afford service. WRT participates in Federal Communications Commission's Lifeline, Toll Limitation, Tribal Lifeline and Tribal Link Up assistance programs.

- LIFELINE provides a monthly credit of $9.25 on the basic service portion of your WRT telephone bill. The credit is applied on the main home telephone line listed in the name of the eligible WRT subscriber.
- TOLL LIMITATION Lifeline/Tribal Lifeline subscribers may also block long distance calls on their telephone line at no charge. This limits the possibility on unwanted fees on your bill.
- TRIBAL LIFELINE provides up to an additional $25.00 in federal support to qualifying residents of Tribal lands. The credit is applied on the main home telephone line listed in the name of the eligible WRT subscriber.
- TRIBAL LINK UP is available to qualifying individuals residing on Tribal lands. It covers 100% of the charges (up to $100) that WRT customarily assesses for installing/connecting subscribers to our network.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE? If you or your household currently participates in any of the following programs, you might qualify for telephone assistance:

- Medicaio
- National School Lunch Program's Free Lunch Program
- Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
- Low-Income Energy Home Assistance Program (LIHEAP)
- Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)
- Federal Public Housing Assistance (Section 8)
- Head Start (if income criteria are met)

- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF)
- Tribally-Administered Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TTANF)
- · Bureau of Indian Affairs General Assistance
- · Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations
- Household income is at or below 135% of the Federal Income Guidelines.

Under federal law, WRT is required to access the FCC's National Lifeline Accountability Database to verify if a customer is currently receiving Lifeline, as well as provide information to the database regarding new Lifeline subscribers. Lifeline is a federal benefit and willfully making false statements to obtain the benefit can result in fines, imprisonment, de-enrollment or being barred from the program. ONLY ONE LIFELINE SERVICE IS AVAILABLE PER HOUSE-HOLD. A household is defined for the purposed of the Lifeline program as any individual or group of individuals who live together at the same address and share income and expenses. A household is NOT permitted to receive Lifeline assistance from multiple telephone service providers. This includes both wireline and wireless providers. Violation of the one-per-household constitutes a violation of the Federal Communications Commission's rules and will result in the subscriber's de-enrollment from the program and potentially prosecution by the US government. Lifeline is a nontransferable benefit and the subscriber may not transfer his/her benefit to any other person.

If you have any additional questions, please stop by your local WRT office in Hazen/Beulah, ND or Mobridge, SD or contact WRT at 748-2211 to speak with a WRT Customer Service Representative.

I CERTIFY, UNDER THE PENALTY OF PERJURY, TO EACH OF THE CHECKED BOXES AS MARKED

I CERTIFY, UNDER THE PENALTY OF PERJURY, THAT:

I understand and consent to West River Telecom (WRT) providing my Lifeline service account information, including but not limited to, my name, residential address, date of birth, last 4 digits of my social security number or tribal identification number, telephone number associated with Link-Up support (if applicable) and the date on which my Lifeline service was initiated/terminated, the amount of support provided, and the means through which I qualified for Lifeline, to the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC), USAC's agents &/or the National Lifeline Accountability Database to ensure the proper administration of the Lifeline program. I understand that if I fail to provide this consent, WRT will deny me Lifeline service.

I understand that if I am identified as receiving more than one Lifeline benefit, all telephone service providers involved may be notified so that I may select one service and be de-enrolled from the other(s).

My household meets the income-based eligibility or program-based criteria for receiving assistance, as noted in this form and provided in 47 C.F.R. § 54.409. I have provided documentation of eligibility if required to do so.

I will notify WRT within 30 days if for any reason my household no longer satisfies the criteria for receiving Lifeline including, if I no longer meet the income-based or program-based criteria for receiving Lifeline support, if I am receiving more than one Lifeline benefit, if another member of my household is receiving a Lifeline benefit, or for any other reason, my household no longer satisfies the criteria for receiving Lifeline support. Failure to notify WRT may result in penalties and de-enrollment from the program.

If I move to a new address, I will provide that new address to WRT within 30 days. If I provided a temporary residential address to WRT, I will be required to verify my address every 90 days.

If I am seeking to qualify for Lifeline as an eligible resident of Tribal lands, I live on Tribal lands, as defined in 47 C.F.R § 54.400(e).

I understand that only one Lifeline service benefit is available per household. To the best of my knowledge, my household is not already receiving a Lifeline service.

I understand that my WRT Lifeline service is not transferable. I may not transfer my service to any individual, including another eligible low-income consumer.

I understand that I may be required to re-certify my household's eligibility for Lifeline assistance at any time, and if I fail to recertify as to my continued eligibility, it will result in de-enrollment and the termination of my household's Lifeline assistance.

I understand that providing false or fraudulent information to receive Lifeline benefits is punishable by law.

Hunter surveys form of 'citizen science'

In a way, the N.D. Game and Fish Department hunter harvest surveys are a little like a form of "citizen science," which gained popularity through things like Cornell Lab of Ornithology's "FeederWatch" or "Great Backyard Bird of Ornithology's "reederwaten" or oregt backyand out.

Watch" programs.
Average, everyday people are asked to submit information. Scientists and researchers then use the data to glean more knowledge about, in the case of Cornell Lab of Ornithology, birds and bird populations.

The Game and Fish Department's funter harvest survey

The Game and fish Department's funter harvest survey questionnaires have been a version of citizen science input for the past 50 or so years. For example, a select number of upland game hunters are asked to respond to a list of questions like how many partridge or sharp-talled grouse they got during the season. Or how many days they hunted. Hunters are asked if they actually participated in a hunting season or if they drew, for example, a fail turkey license but were unable to get into the field.

It's citizen science used to help wildlife management. With the deer gun season rapidly approaching, a percentage of hunters in each deer gun unit will receive a hunter observation questionnaire in the mail the first week in November. The firning is such, explained Game and Fish Department Big Game Biologist Bill Jensen, so that details of their hunt are fresh in their memories.

That helps ensure data is more accurate.

That helps ensure data is more accurate. In recent years, hunters have also been asked to note the number of mule deer and white-tailed deer, as well as the number of antiered and antierless deer, they saw during their opening weekend deer-hunting excursions. That information helps the Game and Fish Department supplement their own aerial deer surveys, especially white-tail serial survey information, which biologists conduct in winter months.

The problem is North Dakota doesn't always get enough snow to allow biologists to fly their whitefull survey blocks, so hunter-supplied information helps fill in some of the gaps. Granted, the hunter information isn't pure science but it's Granted, the nunter miormation is in the science but its valuable information and helps provide critical trend data. Aerial surveys are typically going to be more accurate because biologists - when they can conduct whitefull surveys, that is - can follow deer better visually from the air longer to get more accurate observations as to whether a deer is a buck or doe, whitefull or mule deer.

Duck or doe, whiteful or mule deer.

Jensen is impressed that hunters actually are pretty darn accurate in their observations, For example, in 2014, 1,244 hunters classified 20,888 whiteful deer across the state during the opening weekend. They reported 20 percent were bucks, the remainder does and fawns. They also reported seeing a total of 5,021 mule deer. Eighteen percent of those were bucks.

Now, compare that to the Game and Fish Department's Arow, compare that to the Game and this Department's mule deer aerial surveys conducted in October 2014, which cover 306 square miles: Biologists observed 1,958 mule deer in the survey blocks. Twenty percent were bucks.

At only 2 percentage points' difference, lensen said the hunters' and biologists' observations actually match up

The bottom line is those buoter observation questionnaires are important. Hunters should justifiably have a sense of pride when they mail in their responses.

After all, it is the hunter version of a citizen scientist

Quote of the Week: "Generally, hunters are seeing about 15 to 18 percent antiered deer." – N.D. Game and Fish Department Big Game Biologist Bill Jansen on the number of antiered duar huntars typically obsarve during the opaning unakend of deer gun season.

Deer season FAOs

Every year the North Dako-ta Game and Fish Department receives questions from deer hunters who want to clarify rules and regulations. Some common questions are listed below. Hunters with further questions are encouraged to call the Come and Fish to call the Game and Fish Department at 701-328-6300, from 8 a.m. – 5 p.m. week-days, or access the depart-ment's website, glad.gov.

What licenses do I need for deer gun season? A fishing, hunting, and furbearer certificate, the general game and habitat stamp or a combination license, and the deer li-cense. Graffs license holders need only the graffs license.

Can I use my grafts license to take a mule deer doe? Not in units 3B1, 3B2, 4A, 4B, 4C, 4D, 4E and 4E.

I shot a deer in Unit 3F2.
What field dressing restrictions must I follow? Hunters cannot transport a carcass containing the head and spinal column outside of the unit unless it's taken directly init thiesa it a taken directly to a meat processor. The head can be removed from the carcass and transported outside of the unit if it is to be submitted to a State Game and Fish Department district office, CWD surveil-lance drop-off location or a licensed taxidermist. If the deer is processed in the field to boned meat, and the hunt-er wants to leave the head in the field, the head must be legally tagged and the hunter must be able to return to or give the exact location of the head if requested for verifica-

Last week I went 7-4 and cautioned Bison fans about Velva. My caution warning was right, but I didn't pick n team for the Velva vs. Hazen they stepped up. Linton beat Hankinson, Mott-Regent topped Divide County, Hettinger-Scranton topped St. Johns, and Richardton-Taylor smashed Mohall-Lansford-Sherwood smashed Mohall-Lansford-Sherwood.

This week I'll add in AAA and AA picks. In AAA ball, I don't get to see these teams a lot so I have to rely on what I hear. I like West Fargo, Century, Fargo South, and Dickinson. I picked Fargo South for I picked Fargo South for I picked Fargo South for I unset with because they an upset win, because they are getting overlooked going into the opening round and tradition dies hard, tradition (lies bard, in AA 1 go Trinity, Valley City, St. Mary's, and Beulah. I don't think Wahpeton will have enough juice to contain Beulah for a whole game, and last week's home win for the Miners will rebuild the team's confidence.

I like Trinity because the weather is going to be nice and the playoffs never go and the playous never go according to seed. In single A1 like Carrington – when teams are close and I haven't watched them, I'm always going to take the Icam with more track guys.

No one posts their 60 times anywhere from baseball.
Carrington has beast athletes during track season and baseball season. When their track guys turn their attention to baseball in summer they are tough to deal with, so I'm actually taking Carrington to come out of the east. Pin me in, Carrington will advance to the state champiadvance to the state champi-onship game.

I also like Park Rivor, Bish-op Ryan, and Killdeer. Killdeer has constantly Improved, and a week to get healthy will go a long way. I think Bishop Ryan is doing well and trues the situation where no one is the situation where no one is counting them right now. In 9-man, I've got Shiloh beating Linton. It's a rematch and Shiloh is at home. I know Linton will have a better iden of what they are going to see this week but still, Shiloh is too much to deal with in the strange. Zon deal with in the game. Zac Martin can drop back in the Wing formation and still cause trouble running and throwing. Give me Richland, Moth Regent, and North Prairie in the other games, Richland is tough and best a AA playoff team this year.

I don't think Thompson wins, because the weather is expected to be nice. Mott-Regent has too many wenpons for Hettinger-Scranton, Northern Prairie is ranked, and Richardton-Taylor hasn't played well against ranked teams this year, I think Richardton-Taylor's run is over this week

More playoff action awaits us this weekend!

Staying connected to local resources and emergency services can improve and possibly save many lives, say state regulators. Access to local emergency services and community resources is vital to our low-income and elderly residents. WRT in conjunction with the Federal Communications Commission (PCC) wants residents to "stay connected" and is reaching out to those who need phone service but can't afford it, The Lifeline Assistance Program offers discounts to help residents have access to basic local telephone service. Lifeline helps low income consumers connect to the notion's communications networks, find jobs, sceess health care services, connect with family, and call for

Salted caramel cupcakes with pecan coconut brittle crumble and caramel Swiss butter cream By: Delany Peterson, Kelsey McDowell, and Kylee Kerzmann

- Ingredients: Homemade salted caramet: 1 2/3 cups sugar 1 tbsp light com syrup 1 stick unsalted butter

- 1 cup heavy cream at room temp.
 1 1/2 tsp coarse sea salt

Cupcakes were made with while cake box mix and about a lablespoon of caramel in the center.

- Caramel Swiss butter cream
 1 cup plus 2 tosp sugar
 5 large egg whites
 2 pounds unsailed butter at room temp.
 2 tosp coarse see selt for sprinkling
 6 cups powdered sugar
 1 ¼ tsp caramel imitation flavoring

Directions:
Preheat oven to 350 degrees Fahrenheit, Line two standard mufflin pans with cupcake finers.
For sailed carrient: Combine the sugar, 1/3 cup water and corn syrup in a smell saucepan. Sitr with wooden spoon and bring to simmer over medium heat. Simmer, swirling the pot occasionally, until the mixture is a beautiful amber color (watch closely). Once desired color is reached, immediately add the butter and sitr with wooden spoon until completely incorporated. Remove from heat. Add the cup of heavy whipping cream and stir to incorporate. Sitr in coarse sea sait. Pour Y cup of sailed caramel into smill bowl or measuring cup, and the remainder into another bowl. Cool completely stirring occasionally.

For cupcakes: Bake according to box directions.

While cupcakes are baking, make the butter cream: Combine the sugar and egg whites in the bowl of a standard mixer. Place bowl over simmering water and whisk continuously until the sugar is melted. Remove from the heat, place under mixer with whisk attachment and whisk on medium-high speed until soft peaks form and it cools to rome term. Add the butter and beat until incorporated. With mixer running, slowly beat in the ½ cup of selted caramel reserved until mix is combined completely. Set aside and cool until ready to frost cupcakes.

To assemble: Use a small semated knife, core each cupcake about 1 ½ Inches wide at the top and halfway through. Fill with caramel and frost generously, top with Grandma's Secret Pecan Pretzel Crumble. Your cupcakes are now ready to eat.

Salted caramel cupcakes with pecan coconut brittle crumble and caramel Swiss butter cream By: Delany Peterson, Kelsey McDowell, and Kylee Kerzmann

Ingredients:

ingrevents: Homemade salted caramel: 1 2/3 cups sugar 1 tibsp light com syrup 1 slick unsalted bulter

- 1 cup heavy cream at room temp.
 1 1/2 tsp coarse sea sait

Cupcakes were made with white cake box mix and about a tablespoon of caremel in the center.

- Caramel Swiss buller cream 1 cup plus 2 thsp sugar 5 large egg whites 2 pounds unsalted bulter at room temp.
- 2 the coarse sea salt for sprinking 6 cups powdered sugar 1 ½ tsp ceremel imitation flavoring

Preheat oven to 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Line two standard

Preheat oven to 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Line two standard muffin pans with cuprake liners. For salked caramel: Combine the sugar, 1/3 cup water and com syrup in a small saucepan. Stir with wooden spoon and bring to simmer over medium heat. Simmer, swirling the pot occasionally, until the mixture is a beautiful amber color (watch closely). Once desired color is reached, immediately add the butter and stir with wooden spoon until completely incorporated. Remove from heat. Add the cup of heavy whipping cream and stir to incorporate. Stir in coarse see selt. Pour ½ cup of selfed caramel into small bowl or measuring cup, and the remainder into another bowl. Cool completely silrring occasionally.

For cupcakes: Bake according to box directions.

While cupcakes are baking, make the butter cream: Combine the sugar and ogg whites in the bowl of a standard mixer. Place bowl over simmeting water and whisk continuously until the sugar is melted. Remove from the heat, place under mixer with whisk attachment and whisk on medium-high speed until soft peaks form and it cools to room temp. Add the butter and beat until incorporated. With mixer running, slowly beat in the ½ cup of satited caramet resorved until mix is combined completely. Sat aside and cool until ready to frost cupcakes.

To assemble: Use a small serrated knife, core each cupcake about 1 ¼ Inches wide at the top and halfway through. Fill with caramel and frost generously, top with Grandma's Secret Pecan Protzel Crumble. Your cupcakos are now ready to eat.

Chocolate cupcakes with salted caramet frosting (Grand prize winner) By: Grace Scheresky and Ally Behles

- Ingredients: Cupcakes: 1 box dovits food cake mix 1 small box of Jelio Chocolate Fudge Instant pudding mix

- 1 Small box of Jelio Chocolate Puoge Instant pudding 4 large eggs 26 cup vegetable oil 16 cup sour cream (or low-fat Greek or regular yogurt)

Salted caramel frosting: ½ cup (1 silck) salted butter 1 cup pecked birown sugar 1/3 cup heavy cream ¼ tsp selt 23 cups silted powdered suger 20 pretzel lwists (optional)

Directions:
Start with the frosting; Melt the butter in a small saucepan over fow heat. Once melted, add brown sugar and heavy cream. Streenstantly over medium heat until dissolved. Add sait. Allow to bubble for exactly 2 minutes. Remove from heat and allow to cool. Beat in powdered sugar 1 cup at a lime, until you reach desired consistency.

Make the cupcakes: Preheat oven to 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Line two 12 cupcake pans with liners. Set aside.

Using a stand or hand held electic mixer on medium speed, beat together the cake mix, pudding mix, eggs, oil, milk and sour cream. Beat until well comblined, about 2 minutes. Scoop the batter evenly into cupcake liners.

Bake for 20 to 25 minutes, or until toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean. Remove the cupcakes from tin and let cool. Once fully cooled, frost cupcakes with salled caramel frostling and garnish with a pretzel twist.

Voting is over

Friday was the end of the week-long voting period for a new nickname for the UND sports teams. Eligible voters included fixedly, students, utumi and season teket holders.

As an alumnus from the Class of '64, and a long-time fan of the UND Fighting Sioux, I fought like mad against changing the name at all. Early in the controversy I wrote a letter to the UND president, and more recently I utlended a gathering of the North Dakota Supreme Court, wearing one of my UND Fighting Slows T-shirts. All to no avail. The NCAA threatened to hit the school with sanctions if the Fighting Slows name wasn't changed.

I selt that I had done what I could do to keep our tradition alive. But committees were formed to be hadde the selection of a new nickname. The name suggestions were finally narrowed down to five. Voting started some time age, when cards were sent out with email numbers voters could use.

Therein lies the problem for me. I can't send or receive emails, I don't own a computer. I communicate with my trusty old Smith-Corona portable typewriter and "smail mail." My only phone is a plain old landline, in general, these have been all I've needed. But not in this case. this case.

I suppose I could have found someone with a computer who could have voted for me. But I decided not to bother anyone

I know when I'm licked.

Stay connected with WRT's telephone assistance

Staying connected to local resources and emergency services can improve and possibly save many lives, say state regulators.

Access to local emergency cor-

Access to local emergency sorvices and community resources is a vital to our low-income and elderly residents. WRT in conjunction with the Foderal Communications Commission (FCC) wants residents to "stay connected" and is reaching out to those who need phone service but can't allord it.

The Lifeline Assistance Program offers discounts to help residents have access to hasic local tolephone sorvice. Lifeline helps low income consumers connect to the nation's communications networks, find jobs, access health care ser-vices, connect with family, and

Higher Medicare premiums, deductibles next year

The fact couple of weeks have brought unexpected and unwelcome news to millions of seniors and disabled people on Medicare. Their already high our of-specket, casts are going to get higher. For some, premiums for Medicare Part B coverage that pays for doctor and catpatient services will goup as much as 32 porcent. For everyone Part D premiums, which cover drug benefits, will increuse an average of 13 percent, and everyone will see their annual Part B deductible rice from $147$ to $223.

These are not trivial amounts considering that half of ull prople on Medicare are living on annual incourses of $24,150 or less. "I like taking the pieces out," said Isainh, as he plucked an eye out of the inside of the punnykin. The first-graders all had their own pumpkinearving style.

Some had a longue sticking out while they used their little sawing tool.

Some carved a little, then took a look at it, then carved a little more to get it "just right."

Some really took their time, while others were in a little more of a hurry.

of a hurry, Isaiah was Miranda Ziceler's issaid was Miranda Aicgier's buddy, so she did most of the carving. She still had a fun time with her buddy "heing told by my buddy how to carve the pumpkin," she said with a laugh. "That i wasn't going fast enough."

The pumpkin carving is a great time for everyone, says Cottingham.

"The older kids love it just as much as the younger ones do," said Cottingham. "They look forward to it."

During the Central Power Cooperative monthly meeting Monday, Oct. 19, it was exciting news for McLean County resident Troy Presser.

Presser.
Presser of Turtle Lake, who is a board member at McLean Electric Cooperative, was elected to the
Basin Electric Cooperative Board

Basin Electric Cooperative Board of Directors.

In order to qualify to be a director at the Basin Electric level, Presser first needed to be elected to the McLean Electric board. The McLean Electric board elected him to the Central Power board and the Central Power board elected him to the Basin board.

Presser ran against the incumbent for his successful bid for the position.

MEC Manager Marty Dahl sald Presser has earned his credentialed director statues through class training and was most recently bestowed the honor of receiving his board leadership certification through classes required to be a leader in the board ranks.

"McLean Electricis very proud of Mr. Presser's accomplishments and they feel this new board seat will add additional clout at a high level in the electric business for McLean Electric and its members," Dahl said, "Congratulations."

Basin Electric generates and serves electric power from the Canadian Border to Mexico and from Iowa to western Montans.

Weekly Vikings Roundup

On Sunday, the Vikings defeated the visiting Kansas City Chiefs, 16-10. With Teddy Bridgewater and Adrian Peterson (or more likely the offensive line) struggling, it was rookie Stefon Diggs and the Minnesota defense that carried the team.

In the first half, Minnesota was dominating. The Vikings scored 10 points and accumulated 193 total yards, while holding Kansas City to zero points and only 51 yards. Unfortunately, the second half was a different story. Led by their tight end Travis Kelse, the Chiefs were able to gain some traction, eventually getting into the endzone thanks getting into the enuzone tranks to a 42 yards screen pass to Albert Wilson which brought the Chiefs to within three points. In a game that should not have been as close as it was, the Vikings showed poise and mettle by holding off the Chiefs and doing just enough to secure the win.

Teddy Bridgewater had an uneven game, throwing for 249 yards, a touchdown, and a pair of interceptions. Adrian Peterson was bottled up for most of the game, rushing for only 60 yards on 26 carries. If you take away a 23 yard scamper in the third quarter, Peterson only averaged 1.48 yards per carry. The offensive line held up in pass protection, only giving up two sacks and two quarterback hits. However, they were unable to open any running lanes for Peterson, which contributed to his bad day. Another week, another game where the Viking's defense is asked to bail out the offense. In his first game after being named the full time starter at middle linebacker, rookie Eric Kendricks led the team in tackles with 10, as well as a sack, tackle for a loss, pass defense, and a quarterback hit. Everson Griffen was sick and unable to play, and the only explanation I can think of is his chops must've been infected, because he had been licking them all week in anticipation of going against tackles, a quarterback hit and half a sack (shared with Sharrif

The player of the game this week was rookie Stefon Diggs, who had seven catches for 129 yards. With Charles Johnson injured, Diggs has had an opportunity to play and he has taken full advantage of it. Through two weeks, Diggs has 13 catches for 216 yards which is second on the team, behind Mike Wallace who has 256 yards (in five games).

I was tempted to put Adrian
Peterson as the player who could use the most improvement, but I'm going to do something I thought I never would and list Teddy Bridgewater. If you just looked at the stats, you'd see this was the second highest passing yardage game of the season for Teddy. However, Teddy also had two picks and left a lot of yards on the field with some erratic passes. Teddy only completed 55 percent of his passes and had a quarterback rating of 65.1. Luckily for him, the Vikings were playing a Chiefs team that was without their best player, and the Viking's defense was able to keep Kansas City in check for most of the game. Going forward, there will be games that Teddy is asked to win, and he must play better in those games than he did today.

Looking forward, the Vikings play the Lions this Sunday, October 25. The Lions have already come to Minnesota and were sent home with their tails between their legs, but this is a whole new game and it will be in Detroit, so the Vikings cannot overlook this team. Detroit finally got their first win of the season this past Sunday, in a 37-34 overtime victory against the Chicago Bears. Matthew Stafford and Calvin Johnson combine to give the Lions a fearsome passing attack, but they are dead last in the NFL in rushing and have a porous defense. This is another game that the Vikings should have no the Chiefs offensive line. Rookie problems winning, but this is the Danielle Hunter started in his NFL and any given team can win place, and finished with four on any given Sunday.

But I have faith that he will.

Five things about public notices in the newspaper

By: David Bordewuk South Dalcota Newspaper Association

Month in South Dakota, It's an opportunity to shine a light on why public notices published in your local newspaper matter in our lives and in our society.

Here are five things to know:

1) Public notices published in your local newspaper are a record of the official actions of government. There are many types of public notices: bid notices, election notices, proposed zoning regulations, proposed budgets and much more. Perhaps the most common and the best read public notices are the minutes of local government meetings.

October is Public Notices The boards, councils and commissions of all public school districts, cities, towns and counties in South Dakota are required by law to publish the minutes of all their public meetings.

2) Public notices published in your local newspaper are indeed read by citizens. South Dakota Newspaper Association has commissioned a half dozen statewide public notice readership surveys the past 20 years and consistently those surveys have shown people read public notices. In fact, about half of all those surveyed say they read public notices in their local newspaper at least sometimes or regularly.

Opponents of public notices By: Jordan Seaman published in the local newspaper argue that newspapers are dying and that no one reads them anymore. They argue that local governments should put their public notices online instead of having to pay to publish them in the local newspaper. SDNA's statewide surveys show that taxpayers overwhelmingly prefer to have the notices published in their newspaper instead of having them available only online. Plus, the cost to publish public notices in the local newspaper is small. In fact, it averages less than onehalf of one percent of a local government body's annual budget.

Newspapers are not dying. Newspapers continue as the No. 1 source for local news and information in communities all across our state. South Dakotans rely on the local newspaper to keep them informed about their community and help keep their community connected.

3) The 128 newspapers in South Dakota have cooperated to create a searchable online site for public notices. The website www.publicnotices.com - is a compilation of public notices that were first printed in the local newspaper. This service is provided free of charge. Local governments are not charged a fee and the public is not charged a fee to use the site.

4) Public notices published in the local newspaper provide permanency and a bonafide authentication that the internet cannot match. Public notices on the internet can be manipulated; altered and subjected to cyber attacks. Public notices published the newspaper don't have those same vulnerabilities. Time and again public notices published in the local newspaper are used by those in the legal community and in government as legal records and research documents. Newspapers provide an independent, thirdparty check in the process of delivering public notices to the public. That is better than having government as the sole author and publisher of its own information.

5) Public notices published in the local newspaper are an essential building block for good, open government. Democracy works best when citizens are well informed and have the information they need to help them shape their decision-making. Public notices fulfill that essential role. Fransparency and openness in government are vital and go hand in hand with public notices published in the local newspaper.

During this Public Notices Month, I encourage you to visit with your local newspaper staff to learn more about the public notices published in the newspaper. Plus, I encourage you to urge your local legislators to resist the ongoing efforts in Pierre to eliminate the the course and the weather made in your newspaper. Good cross country meet.

McLaughlin Football Defeated by Timber Lake Panthers

The McLaughlin football team welcomed the Timber Lake Panthers to their territory Friday night. Although it was a tough game, the McLaughlin boys played with everything they had. The quick Panthers were tough for the McLaughlin team to get past. As was the McLaughlin defense for the Panthers. The game was over was over by half time sadly, with McLaughlin falling short to the Panthers.

It was also parent's night for McLaughlin, and it was nice to see all of the parents out supporting their student athletes. It was quite a chilly night, but the boys were dedicated, as were their parents and fans. They never gave up, and fought through it all.

It has been one heck of a season for the McLaughlin football team, the community and school have to be very proud. They started their season out slow but as the season progressed, so did they. They managed to win two of their games, something that hasn't been done in McLaughlin in many years. Although they couldn't knock out one more win, they ended their season on a good note. Upcoming seasons are looking to be very exciting for McLaughlin football. Keep up the hard work in the off season boys, looking forward to next

Three Tigers Heading to State!

By: Kordell Arnold Wednesday, October 14, 2015 a regional cross country meet was held in Gettysburg, South Dakota. With 47 varsity boys and 32 varsity girls running for a place in the top 20, three McIntosh Tigers are going to statel Madison Meyer placed 15th with a time of 22:32, Kordell Arnold placed 15th with a time of 19:41, and Dylan Mollman placed 20th with a time of 20:15. Max Mollman placed 25th with a time of 21:18, but didn't qualify

The meet started at 12:00 p.m. with the varsity girls running first, then varsity boys, followed by junior varsity girls and boys. Varsity runners ran 5000m (about 3.2 miles)and junior yarsity ran 3000m (about 2 miles). It was a great day for a regional meet. It wasn't too cold or too hot. A little cool wind kept the heat down so the conditions for the runners were great. The course had little to no hills. Even though new drainpipes were being installed into the course, it provided a good running path for the runners to run. Overall, publication of public notices the perfect setting for a regional

The McIntosh team has been working very hard throughout the season to gain the title ofstate qualifiers. Coach Dena Bailey pushed the Tigers with practices that consisted of runs about 3 to 5 miles long and hard workouts in the weight room. The team practiced every Monday through Friday since the first day of school, which made it more than possible for these runners to qualify for state.

The State Cross Country meet will be held on October 24, 2015 in Sioux Falls. State qualifiers will be running at the Yankton Trail Park starting with Class B Girls at 1:00 p.m. and then Class B Boys will start at 2:30 p.m. Good luck to the McIntosh team.

Happy Birthday North Dakota

November 2, 2015 - North Dakota is 126 Years Young

Monday, November 2, 2015, is North Dakota's 126th Anniversary of Statehood.

In 1889, it became the 39th state admitted to the union when President Harrison signed the Proclamation of Admission for North Dakota and South Dakota at 3:40 p.m. ET. The process towards statehood began at on February 22, 1889, when President Cleveland signed the Enabling Act.

Then, on October 1 of that year, the state's voters approved its new constitution. Out of 35,548 votes cast, 70 of the voters voted in favor of statehood. However, since women did not have the right to vote until August 26, 1920, only men voted in that election.

4-H foods projects teach lifelong lessons

"I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, and my health to better living, for my club, my community, my country and my world."

If you recognize this pledge, chances are you have been in 4-H, or perhaps your child and/or other relative has been in 4-H. Maybe you are or have been a 4-H volunteer leader.

Growing up as a "town kid," I was not in a 4-H club. Typically, kids who lived on farms were in 4-H. However, I liked doing all the sorts of things that my friends in 4-H did, including gardening, baking and sewing.

I certainly liked looking at all my cousin's purple "grand champion" ribbons earned at the county fair for her 4-H projects.

Two of my own "city kids" are 4-H members and my third child was enrolled through his senior year of high school My by hygiene recommendations; considering the vast array of shampoos and soaps available today:— 1940s-era young girls were advised to take a warm sponge bath or tub bath twice a week and shampoo their hair twice a month.

After viewing this document, I can see why women who took part in these programs as children were self-sufficient as adults. The curriculum taught them how to butcher and pluck chickens and cut them up for dinner. They learned how to cook, bake and preserve foods.

Interestingly, the 4-H food guide stated that during World War II, $1.5 million worth of vegetables were spoiled due to improper canning. When I ran the figure in an online inflation calculator, the value of the wasted food would be more than $25 million in today's dollars.

Yes, proper food preservation can save money and your life, too. Much of the canning research was done during the 1940s. Participants in the 1947 4-H food curriculum were were not fully cooked. Now we would recommend using pasteurized (heat-treated) eggs in their place.

Lard was used in the pie crusts instead of other types of fat. Lard still makes the flakiest pie crusts, by the way.

In the 1940s, refined flour was used in nearly all the bread, cookie and muffin recipes. As we have learned more about the health benefits of wholegrain ingredients, such as whole-wheat flour and oatmeal, our emphasis in nutrition has been to make at least half of your grains whole grains.

My step back in food history was an interesting one. Here's a recipe from the 1947 "Foods the 4-H Way" member manual. This reminds me of a recipe that my mother used to make. See https://www.ag.ndsu.edu/food for more information about food preservation and nutrition. Contact your local office of the NDSU Extension Service for more information about 4-H.

Now the 4-H youth development program reaches more than six million youth in urban, suburban and rural areas throughout the U.S. and beyond. Food-related programs have been popular topics for children enrolled in 4-H

The other day, our state 4-H program leader lent me two 4-H food curriculum member inanuals dated 1947. He knows I enjoy looking at historical food- and cooking-related information. I carefully examined the fragile sheets of paper that probably were typed using a manual type- writer and copied with carbon paper.

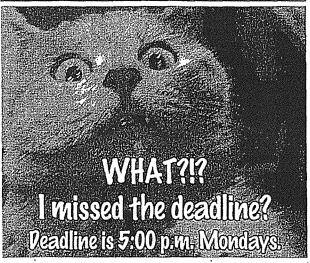

As I paged through the curriculum for "4-H girls," I became a little nostalgic reading the recipes. By the way, presently, food projects are not only for girls; boys enjoy food projects, too.

In the years right after World War II, girls engaged in this food curriculum were advised to drink six glasses of water, wash their hands before meals. and eat three meals a day with no sweets between meals "except at a party." They were to strive to miss no days from school because of illness. That's still good advice.

I was a little amused

"Our hearts go out to the
Wheeler family for their tragic loss.
Master Sergeant Joshua Wheeler was a highly decorated member of the Delta Force unit whose mission in Iraq was freeing hostages held by ISIS. Like so many of our Cherokee warriors, Joshua died serving our great country and we are forever indebted to him for his bravery and willingness to accept the most dangerous missions in the name of freedom and justice for the United State of America, Joshua is a true American hero and we will always honor his life and sacrifices at the Cherokee Nation. We are holding his wife, children, parents and extended family in our thoughts and prayers."

Wheeler, who joined the Army in 1995, was assigned to Headquar-ters, U.S. Army Special Operations Command at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Wheeler was preceded in death by his parents. He is survived by his wife and four children.

Stay connected with WRT's telephone assistance

Staying connected to local resources and emergency services can improve and possibly save many lives, say state regulators. Access to local emergency services and community resources is vital to our low-income and elderly resi-dents. WRT in conjunction with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) wants residents to "stay connected" and is reaching out to those who need phone service but can't afford it. The Lifeline Assistance Program offers discounts to entitled to receive a basic telephone help residents have access to basic local telephone service. Lifeline helps low income consumers con-nect to the nation's communications networks, find jobs, access health care services, connect with family, and call for help in an emergency.

Under the federal Lifeline program, telephone customers who participate in or are eligible for certain public assistance programs are service discount of at least $9.25 per month. More information on program eligibility, rules and key messages is available at https://www.fcc.gov/lifeline.

Heritage Trivia

by Walter Klick

November 8, 1989

If perchance you have made the trip to Dickinson, Mandan or narck in recent weeks you realize that there is something in the air. Preparations for something big are in the air - in fact it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas. I remember once while in the general merchandise business that I threatened to display Christmas merchandise and toys as early as the week after July 4 in order to get the jump on the "big boys" competition. It was however only a frustration idea and was not followed through.

What has all of this to do with this column in the Hebron

Herald?

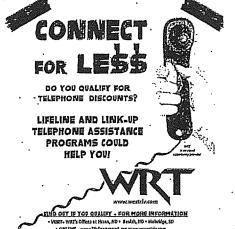

Well, we've got something to sell. A gift that will be cherished as it is a souvenir of the past that keeps our heritage alive. We still have on hand more than 300 Hebron Centennial books which are filled with memories of the past, with information galore for many people, in our own community and also those who have moved to faraway places. With so much interest in 'Roots' such books should be available to family members near and far. The price remains the same as before, namely $40, and well worth it.

This prize winning book is a treasure. By purchasing one or two, plus souvenir bells, cups and saucers, mugs, plates, key rings and caps from Hebron's 1985 Centennial, as well as the North Dakota Centennial of 1989 you will be bringing the Pioneer House and Museum/Library closer to realization. President Paul Schlenvogt, or any of the directors will be glad to show you what is on sale,

It is all heritage trivia that you can put your hands on with pride Have a look! Give a lift to this project! Future generations will applaud you for it!

The 4-H club-based programs were launched in 1902 by A.B. Graham, an Ohio school principal. Now the 4-H youth development program reaches more than six million youth in urban, suburban and rural areas through-out the U.S. and beyond. Food-related programs have been popular topics for children enrolled in

The other day, our state 4-H program leader lent me two 4-H food curme riculum member manuals dated 1947. He knows I enjoy looking at historical food- and cooking-related food- and cooking-related information. I carefully examined the fragile sheets of paper that probably were typed using a manual type writer and copies with carbon paper.

As I paged through the curriculum for "4-H girls," I became a little nostalgic reading the recipes. By the way presently.
