

ComApp Technologies LLC
First Data Request

Exhibit I

ComApp Technologies, LLC is submitting its financial information separately under seal.

These documents demonstrate the Company's financial ability to provide the proposed services. ComApp Technologies LLC is a privately-held limited liability company and as such its financial statements are not public information, but rather confidential and proprietary information. These financial statements are therefore submitted under seal. ComApp Technologies LLC respectfully requests that this confidential information not be provided to any party other than members of staff who need to review the material for evaluation of applicant's fitness to provide service.