As you are aware Iowa is as we speak conducting the Summit pipeline hearing in Fort Dodge Iowa. Your dateline for the same is coming up in September. This is an obsolete pipeline-at this point-to nowhere as a dump site has not been permitted. The new technology now is green methanol. Even Bruce Rastetter realizes this and has moved forward. The best scenario on this pipeline is a very short term project. It encourages fossil fuels by way of EOR and does nothing towards climate change.

I would encourage the PCU and the people of South Dakota to stand tall and be leaders to stop this monster. Once done - it's undoable. This will affect generations to come. It is deadly toxic. There are better solutions out there now already. Fueling this project is an enormous amount of money - my tax dollars in many ways. We farmers do not want this pipeline. They have no right to our land. And eminent domain should not even be entertained here. This is a private company for their gain on the backs of many with all the risk on us to benefit a few. The midwest is prime farm land the likes of no other on the planet that feeds the world.

I encourage you to join North Dakota and refuse to permit this monster. Iowa and Illinois are coming up right behind you. We all are looking to our leaders to do the right thing and united we will stand tall and get this boondoggle stopped.
