Good afternoon, I would like to share how disappointed my morning retired guys coffee group is with the news that BHP is now building a 70 million dollar facility after receiving a rate increase approval from PUC. We always hear how broke they are and the toll the storm damage took. Obviously not. We received this big thank you in the mail with our electric bill for being their customers and it was well put in the RC Journal Two Cents Worth. Like we have a choice? Thank you.
