Dear Public Utility Commissioners

I have lived in Clark County all my life, married just over 29 years with three children, 2 of whom graduated Clark High and are now working and living in our County. Our third is currently a Junior in Clark High School. That being said I hope my children have the same opportunity to grow up and raise their families in the Community they grew up in, and the most sure way of that happening is with jobs and opportunities. I believe Crocker Windfarm will pave the road for these jobs and opportunities.

We own land in the Footprint of Crocker Wind Farm and have no guarantees that a wind Generator will be on our land, but I still believe everyone in Clark County will reap the benefits of the Crocker wind farm either directly through the lease payment or indirectly creating new jobs and reinforcing the old jobs, patronage to all Clark Co. Business's - delaying the tax burden of all Clark County land owners, and small business, and donating to local department and organizations

In conclusion I would like to remind you that people may come to Clark County for clean air, scenery, and good hunting but the thing that keeps them here are jobs and business opportunities, please don't let these opportunities get away from us

Thank you for your consideration
Sincerely Todd Orris

My first contact with Geronimo Energy in regard to the Crocker Wind Farm was a phone call from [redacted] [redacted] didn't push the project on me but answered my questions and addressing my concerns. I'm sure that everyone [redacted] talked to was treated with the same respect that being said I'm sure everyone was offered the same opportunity. Geronimo tried to approach things the right way, but when setbacks are changed and airstrip are registered after the fact its tough to come up with a plan that everyone is going to agree on. Crocker Wind Farm ^{spent the time and effort} worked around every obstacle that they could foresee, offered set backs that were twice the County ordinance, and still trying to find solutions to make this work.
