To Whom It May Concern:

As the Grant County FEMA floodplain administrator and the FIRM map administrator, I have reviewed the floodplain of the project siting and project area for Cattle Ridge and Crowned Ridge projects.

The review of the Floodplain Development applications: FD05282019A, FD05292019B, FD05282019C, FD05292019D, FD05282019E, FD05292019F show the transmission line poles that lie within Zone A of Grant County. All NFIP maps have been reviewed for proper locations of the transmission poles as well and show them to be accurate.

After review, the non-residential structures, are determined to not require base flood elevation certificates or any further action. The transmission pole structures and building permits will be issued to these documented locations without further information being required.
