Mr. and Ms. DeJong,

I do appreciate your tremendous concern over what is basically happening in your backyard. I recognize that this wind farm has a potential, if it receives a permit, to affect your lives for the next 30 years. I will pursue answers to the questions and statements you have posed to me in this and your previous communications with the Public Utilities Commission.

In the future, please send any emails regarding this open, public docket to PUC@state.sd.us.

I had expected to see or hear from you at the public input hearing in Clear Lake on Jan. 24. However, I recognize as you stated in your most recent communication that there is a community infrastructure of friends and relatives who are divided over the pros and cons of this wind farm and your appearance may create greater consternation. Regardless of how the decision of the PUC affects your lives, I wish you and your family the very, very best.

Gary Hanson, Chairman
South Dakota Public Utilities Commission
