TC09-083 was an application by WideVoice Communications, Inc., rather than the applicant under consideration in this docket. In TC11-088, the Company's application was met with opposition by intervenors. Such intervention in SD turns the certification process into a lengthier, much more costly proceeding which ultimately caused the Company to put its resources elsewhere and pursue certifications in other states. The Company is now certified in all states except MS, IA, and SD. The Company is also in a better position to address the concerns of any potential intervenors, and its business plan is better developed and more diverse than in previous applications.
