Mark,

The Coalition of Large Tribes (C.O.L.T.) is pleased to endorse Assurance Wireless and its Lifeline program. This initiative plays a crucial role in providing essential communication services to those in need, particularly in Tribal communities.

C.O.L.T. and Assurance Wireless are committed to jointly developing a digital solution that will educate our constituents and facilitate enrollment in the Lifeline program. This collaboration aims to bridge the digital divide and ensure that eligible individuals have access to vital connectivity services.

Additionally, Assurance Wireless, through its third-party distribution network, will prioritize hiring Native Americans residing on Tribal Lands. These individuals will be instrumental in educating, supporting, and assisting Tribal members in securing Lifeline service through Assurance Wireless.

We recognize the importance of connectivity in today's world and fully support this partnership, which will empower Tribal communities with greater access to communication, education, and essential resources.

Sincerely,

Oliver (OJ) Semans Sr.
